

PLAYED THE MEDS TO A STANDSTILL.

GALLAUDETS' SPLENDID GAME.

Neither Eleven Able to Score in the Best Contest Seen in Baltimore This Year—Applause for the Mutes.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 28.—In the finest game witnessed here this season, the Baltimore Medical College and the Gallaudet eleven played each other to a standstill this afternoon, the final score being 0 to 0.

For forty-five minutes the ball seemed to hang in the air, while the fierce, fast-playing kept the spectators in a continual storm of applause. Twice Gallaudet brought the ball up to the 20-yard and 15-yard line of the Baltimore Medical College, only to lose it on downs, and twice the Mutes carried the pilskin to the Mutes' 20-yard line also, to lose it on downs.

Gains by Close Formation.
The close formations of the Mutes resulted in good gains, the doctors being unable to locate the man with the ball until after he had gained several yards. Not a trick play was used by either team throughout the contest, and straight, hard line-bucking and quick end runs were the order of the day. Clean, sportsmanlike tactics characterized the game.

First half—Bray kicked off for the Medical College and the mutes were downed on their 25-yard line. Immediately the visitors began the swift play which delighted everyone and called forth applause. Captain Waters hit left guard for five yards and Andrew went on the outside of tackle for five more. Erickson went around right end for another three, and in the scrimmage Jennings was hurt. McGovern taking his place.

Andrew was unable to gain around left end, but Waters hit right guard for two yards and Gettiss gained four more around right end. Erickson hit right tackle for four more, and Waters continued his good work by plunging for six through right guard.

Andrew was again thrown back around left end and the mutes were penalized ten yards for offside play. Erickson gained twelve by great dodging around left end. Gettiss was taken around the other end for four more, and Waters gained two through right guard. Andrew secured three around left end, bringing the ball to the doctors' 25-yard line.

Mutes' Gallant Stand.

Here the Mutes were a gallant stand and the doctors were unable to gain another inch, the ball going over on downs. Three yards by Stoncepher through right tackle and two by McQuaid through right guard encouraged the local men, and on the next play Noland hit left tackle for four more.

Stoncepher continued by going around right end for five more, and Bray added another five through center. The Mutes gained ten on successive plays through left tackle, and Stoncepher made four more around the other end.

Then Bray astonished everybody by walking through a big hole in the center for ten yards, and Noland was again called for four yards on the outside of left tackle. Guards back took McQuaid through right guard for six, and Noland carried the ball to the Mutes' twenty-five yard line by three yards through right tackle.

Here the visitors repeated the doctors' performance in the early part of the half, and held the Baltimore boys in magnificent style on downs. By line punning they brought it back to their own forty-five-yard line when time was called.

Second half—On the kick off by Gallaudet Stoncepher brought the ball back to great style from the twenty-eight-yard line to the forty-eight yard line. The Doctors again began to buck the visitors' line. Noland tried left end, and left tackle successfully for a total of seven yards, and McQuaid, on guards back, made four through right guard.

Doctors Try Again.

Then Captain Scannell, on the same play, gained four yards, and again three more. Noland again tried his now famous performance of slitting left end and then hitting left tackle, and added a total of seven more. McQuaid hit right guard twice for a total gain of seven yards. Erickson being hurt in the last scrimmage and Pfunder taking his place in the Mutes' line.

Three by Stoncepher through right tackle, four by McQuaid through left guard and another three by Stone cipher through left tackle brought the ball to the Mutes' twenty-five-yard line, but the Doctors could go no further. The Gallaudet line held like a stone wall and gained the ball on downs.

DEFEATED INDIANS PLUCKY.

A Wonderful Brace Against Columbia Toward the Close.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—After a stormy season of ups and downs the Columbia University football team made a swift finish on the Polo grounds today, beating the Carlisle Indians by a score of 40 to 12. Coach Sanford had a strong eleven on the field to tackle the Redskins, and the Light Blue men played fast, spirited football, piling up points so rapidly that they had the game safe beyond all doubt when the Indians began scoring.

Columbia's big score was no more noteworthy than the remarkable brace the Indians made near the end of the game, when by the most vigorous sort of offensive work, they made two touchdowns after everybody thought they would be shut out. It was a magnificent rally on the part of the Indians and wound up a game that was the most picturesque and entertaining seen here this year.

Massing with great speed and determination on Columbia's line, and now and then resorting to their wing shift, which proved troublesome, the Indians first carried the ball sixty-five yards for a touchdown, and a few minutes later ninety-five yards, across Columbia's goal line, without losing the leather either time. It was wonderful uphill work in the face of certain defeat, and the Indians were cheered heartily for their plucky finish.

The main regret of Columbia's adherents, after the game, was that their team was not able to take the field against Carlisle as it did against the Indians. With Morley back at quarter, and Weeks and Smith in trim, the Columbia backs rushed the ball in fine style, the Indians feeling somewhat tired and again by great interference for end runs which permitted dashes of from twenty to fifty yards and more.

OUTCLASSED BY LAFAYETTE.

Dickinson Unable to Score Against Opponents' Total of 29.

EASTON, Pa., Nov. 28.—Lafayette completely outclassed Dickinson here today and won by the score of 29 to 0. In the first half the Maroon and White rolled up 25 points on the touchdowns, from which Buchanan kicked the goals, and a pretty goal from the 30-yard line by Cure.

In the second half Dickinson braced up sufficiently to hold Lafayette down to one touchdown, though the score was larger had it not been for Lafayette's fumbling.

TANGLEWOOD TEAM DEFEATED.

Laurel High School Eleven Victors by Score of 5 to 0.

In a hard fought game, in which they were greatly handicapped by weight, the Tanglewood Athletic Club eleven was defeated at Laurel, Md., by the eleven representing the high school of that village. After two hard fought halves, the Marylanders were victorious by the close score of 5 to 0.

The Tanglewoods had the leather within two inches of the goal line on several occasions. Try as they would, they could not shove it over the line for a touchdown.

The winners outweighed their opponents fully fifteen pounds to the man. Notwithstanding this fact, the latter fought hard for every inch of ground, and the solitary touchdown was scored in the latter part of the first half, after the Tanglewoods had held their opponents for down several times, and lost the ball on a fumble.

The Washington team came very near scoring on several occasions, but their opponents threw their tremendous weight against their line and held them in check. Alexander who played left end for the losers, made a long gain around left end on a delayed pass. Brewer and Kerr also made long forward advances.

Brewer got possession of the oval on a fumble in the latter part of the second half, and ran thirty yards before he was tackled. When he was lowered the ball was within two feet of the last chalk line. The team was not strong enough to carry it across.

Goal also made several gains through center. At one time he broke through the line and came very near scoring a touchdown for his team mates.

Amherst, 11; Boston College, 0.
BOSTON, Nov. 28.—The Amherst defeated Boston College in an interesting game this afternoon by the score of 11 to 0.

Defeat for Gettysburg College.
LANCASTER, Pa., Nov. 28.—Franklin and Marshall College today defeated the team of Gettysburg College by a score of 24 to 5.

VICTORIES ON THE GRIDIRON.

In the second half, touchdowns followed touchdowns, until three were accumulated, and one goal kicked, making a total score of 22 for the Blue and Grey, while Lehigh had not even had the satisfaction of getting within twenty yards of Georgetown's goal.

Two thousand spectators faced the chill Thanksgiving Day winds to watch the contest on the gridiron, where the snow of the early morning still dotted the brown sod. Georgetown colors were preponderant, although a faithful coterie of Lehigh supporters cheered lustily at every opportunity.

The Southern Championship.

It was not a game to awaken great enthusiasm. There was not the same long-lingering desire to win that was in evidence when Georgetown faced Virginia. There was not so much at stake yesterday as there was then. Then it was that Georgetown spilled her claim on the championship of the South. For, although the Blue and Grey met defeat early in the season at the hands of small colleges, Virginia had defeated the victors in those contests, while Georgetown defeated Virginia by a rally which will long be remembered.

Georgetown now seemed fully as clear, if not a clearer claim to the title of champion of the South, than any other college. Lehigh was regarded with apprehension. They had been always strong this year with victorious results. They had made good showing against the big teams. The men were heavy and fast. Georgetown was not over-confident, and there was little betting.

It was just a little before 3 o'clock when the teams took the field, and soon they faced each other, Georgetown having won the toss and selected the north goal. Mackay kicked off. Lehigh made no gain, and punts were exchanged after ineffectual efforts of both teams to gain in the line and the end zone. The ball was centered field. Lehigh opened operations on the line. Butler, Fuller, and A. Farabaugh were shot through for substantial gains, and it looked as if the visitors possessed the faculty of always gaining the necessary five yards in three downs. Georgetown took the leather on their own 30-yard line for off side play, and Sullivan booted it out of danger.

Again did Lehigh return, until, goaded to desperation, Georgetown held for downs and took the ball on their own thirty-five yard line. At last the Blue and Grey seemed to find a weak spot. A formation was employed by which the line men, generally Keras or Drill, carried the ball, and it proved as effective as it did in the Virginia game. Georgetown's newly-employed play rapid translated the ball goalward, to the intense satisfaction of the routing Georgetownites on the bleachers, until the line and grey were penalized for Kerna holding in the line.

The line plunges of the Lehigh backs seemed almost irresistible until Georgetown took the leather and drove on their thirty-yard line. Sullivan punted to Parsons, whom Drill tackled without return. Then Georgetown took the ball on a technicality.

The First Touchdown.

It was Georgetown's chance at last, and full advantage was taken of the opportunity. Hart made a wide detour around the end, shaking off several tacklers, and covered eighteen yards before downed. Reilly made a brilliant dash for twenty-two yards around the opposite end. Georgetown's roosters broke the ambient with pleas for the team to score before the call of time.

Hart's brilliant end until downed on the 17-yard line. Reilly donated a couple of yards through the line, and then he showed across, just as the timekeepers called the end of the half. Sullivan kicked an easy goal.

During the intermission, the spectators resorted to all kinds of efforts to get warm, and in endeavors to relieve the frosty condition of their toes, beat a tattoo on the bleachers on the motto: "Go, Go, Go." Georgetown's stock went soaring, for it was known that they would play better in the second half. While it was felt that the visitors were not well in hand, few of the Georgetown supporters looked for their wholesale scoring which followed.

The story of the second half is one of constant Georgetown exultation. The line seemed to be the best of the game, point of attack. But frequently the crack backs, Hart and Reilly, neither in the best of condition to be sure, but easily the equals of any in the Southern college world, broke away for swift runs around the ends. McLaughlin was frequently called upon to advance the leather and seldom failed to respond satisfactorily. Drill, the stocky tackle, also proved a good ground gainer, while Keras often broke through and broke up the Lehigh interference before it was fairly started.

Georgetown Scores Again.

The first touchdown came within five minutes after the call of time. Mackay kicked off, and Georgetown got the ball in Lehigh territory two minutes later on a technicality. When started the real offensive campaign, when he fairly entered through a field of opponents, throwing off would-be tacklers, and dodging until the ball was only eight yards from the line. Drill added three more. Hart tried a tackle smash without much success, and then Reilly scored. Sullivan kicked goal. Score, Georgetown 12, Lehigh 0.

The brief intermission between this and the next touchdown was marked by a brilliant eighteen-yard run by McLaughlin, who broke through the line. Drill carried the ball from the Lehigh goal Sullivan gained the ball on a fumble, after an exchange of kicks. Hart's knee gave out and he was replaced by Buckley. Drill added three more. Hart tried a tackle smash without much success, and then Reilly scored. Sullivan kicked goal. Score, Georgetown 12, Lehigh 0.

GROSVENOR CALLS CUBANS UNGRATEFUL.

FAVORS DONE NOT APPRECIATED.

Ohio Representative Declares Himself Opposed to Further Concessions by the Removal of the Tariff on Sugar.

Representative Grosvenor of Ohio, one of the leading members of the House Ways and Means Committee, said yesterday he was flatly opposed to any concessions to Cuba which would injure the beet sugar industry of the United States.

Will Vote Against Reciprocity.
One-third of the sugar consumed in the United States last year, he said, was produced by the American farmer, and he would not by the vote strike down that industry by removing the existing protective duty.

Mr. Grosvenor could see no reason why this Government should, by reciprocity, favor Cuba at the expense of the domestic industries.

"We have already done a great deal for them," he added. "We lifted the Spanish yoke from their shoulders, and they have shown themselves to be absolutely ungrateful. They have manifested no spirit of appreciation."

MISS GILRS RETURNS HOME.

Young Demented Girl Accompanied From New York by Her Sister.

After a trying experience in New York, and being held at Bellevue Hospital for observation as to her mental condition, Miss Catherine Gilrs was brought back yesterday to this city. Her sister, Mrs. Lee Crandall, of 1322 W Street northwest, accompanied the patient. Miss Gilrs is now resting quietly at a private sanatorium uptown.

At her residence last night Mrs. Crandall said:

"For two months Miss Gilrs has been a sufferer from nervous prostration. It was thought a trip would do her good. It had been determined to place her temporarily in a sanatorium in New York, if she consented to treatment there."

"On leaving home she became hysterical. Her condition was much worse when we reached New York." She even became violent, apparently losing control of herself.

"At St. Joseph's Hospital, East Fifth Street, New York, I was advised to place my sister at Bellevue. This I did. I visited her there frequently. As soon as she was able to travel, having improved somewhat, I returned with her to this city."

Miss Gilrs is a native of Georgia, where her mother is now living. She is pretty, about twenty years old, and formerly was employed in the Treasury Department. It is stated that she has been under stress of worry for some months, the exact nature of which is not known.

HOWARD DEFEATS UNION.

Visiting Eleven Shut Out by Score of 25 to 0.

The strong team from Howard University defeated the eleven from the Union University, of Richmond, Va., on the local grounds yesterday afternoon. The score was 25 to 0, in favor of the local eleven. The visitors were not in the running and were completely outplayed and outwitted.

The local lads rushed through the line with the leather, and plowed it and buried their opponents aside like leaves. They scored three of their touchdowns in the first half, and added two more in the second.

The Richmond youths never had the ball within halting distance of the goal line. Whenever they got the oval in their possession, they were unable to make any gains whatever, but were thrown back for a loss.
